

Please join the NYC Commission on
Human Rights at a Forum on Women's Issues:

OUR RIGHTS, OUR IDENTITIES, OUR COMMUNITIES

Sponsored by John Jay College's Departments of Africana Studies, Gender Studies, and External Affairs

March 9, 2017

9:00am - 1:00pm

524 West 59th Street, Room 9.64, New Building

Featured Speakers:

Tatyana Fazlalizadeh, Artist

Linda Sarsour, Racial Justice Activist and Organizer

Panel Discussions:

Identifying and combating street and sexual harassment with Hollaback!, TransLatina Network, and Brooklyn Movement Center.

Building coalitions across communities with Sauti Yetu, African Communities Together, MinKwon Center, Women for Afghan Women, Violence Intervention Program, Diaspora Community Services.

To RSVP, please email dsussman@cchr.nyc.gov

If you have questions or need to request an assistive listening device, language interpretation, or other accommodation please indicate such in your RSVP email by March 2, 2017.

The facility is wheelchair accessible.
Breakfast will be served.

